

High-Altitude Trekking Disclaimer & Declaration

Instructions:

This form must be read and duly filled by all participants before undertaking any trek organized by Planethimalayas. By submitting this form, the participant declares awareness and acceptance of all risks associated with high-altitude trekking.

Participant Details:

Trek name:

Trek Date:

Age:

Contact Number: (prefix with country code, for example: +91 for India)

Emergency Contact Number: (prefix with country code, for example: +91 for India)

Disclaimer & Declaration:

I, the undersigned, hereby acknowledge and declare that:

1. I am fully aware that high-altitude trekking in the Himalayas is an extreme adventure sport, conducted in outdoor environments, which may involve inherent risks including injuries, accidents, or even death.
2. I voluntarily undertake this trek and agree that Planethimalayas and its organizers, staff, and guides cannot be held responsible for any incident, injury, or loss that may occur during the trek.
3. I have undergone proper fitness training and medical tests by a certified medical practitioner for such activities and am physically and mentally fit for high-altitude trekking.
4. I have disclosed all relevant medical history and confirm that no severe health issues (e.g., high blood pressure, asthma, heart conditions) are being withheld from the organizers.
5. I will attentively listen to all briefings given by my local guide and trek leader and strictly follow the instructions and safety guidelines provided during the trek.
6. For participants under 18 years of age, a parent or legal guardian must fill and sign this form, declaring consent for the minor to undertake the trek.
7. I have carefully read and agree to all the Terms and Conditions of participation as stated on the official Planethimalayas* website.

Participant Signature:

Date:

In case participant is minor:

Guardian name:

Relation to participant:

Guardian signature:

Date:

Submission Note:

By signing and submitting this form, I confirm that I have read, understood, and accepted all the above statements.